ACCIDENTS ON A RAILROAD.

A Freight Train Dashes Into Lewis Bishop's Buggy, Near the Insane Asylum.

A buggy in which were Lewis Bishop, living at No. 393 North New Jersey street, and Minnie Taylor, 163 West Maryland street, was struck, yesterday, by a freight on the Vandalia road, and totally demolished, seriously injuring both parties. The accident occurred about 2 o'clock, at the first crossing over Eagle creek, just south of the Insane Hospital. Bishop had several teeth knocked out and suffered several ugly outs about the face and head, while his companion, a girl of eighteen, fared much worse. She had both limbs terribly bruised, and was injured internally to such an extent that her death is expected. She was removed to the City Hospital by Kregelo's ambuiance, Bisho p being taken his home. The horse escaped injury, but the buggy was made a total wreck. Bishop's story, as related last night, was to the effect that he was driving alone some distance from the scene of the accident when he met Miss Taylor and was asked by her if she could ride to the city. He disclaims any knowledge whatever of the girl, but offered the service of his vehicle out of kindness. When they reached the railroad crossing, no train could be heard and Bishop attempted to cross the tracks, but just as the borse reached them he was startled to see a freight engine bearing down upon them. He made a frantic attempt to hurry up his horse, but was not quick enough to avoid the collision. The couple were picked up by the prew on the incoming passenger train on the same road and brought to the city.

A Somnambulist Injured. Daniel Linus, living in Illinois, but having children in this city, was on his way to make them a visit on the train due here at 3:50 o'clock yesterday morning, and, when three miles west of Greencastle, while sound asleep, he deliberately arose, and, reaching the platform of the sar, stepped off. The train was moving between twenty-five and thirty miles an bour, but was stopped. Linus was picked up in an unconscious condition. His collar bone was broken, and upon an investigation it was learned that he had suffered dangerous internal injuries. Before reaching the city he regained consciousness, however, and immediately after his arrival was removed to the City Hospital in Flanner & Buchanan's ambulance.

DIED FIRM IN THEIR FAITH

Three Years' Mortuary Record of the Meridian-Street Methodist Church.

Dr. Gilbert Resigns His Office in Connection with the Sunday-School Union-The Central Association of Baptist Churches.

Rev. Dr. Gilbert conducted a memorial service yesterday morning at Meridian-street M. E. Church. It has always been his custom, near the close of his pastorate at any place, to hold such a service in commemoration of those of his congregation who had died during his term. The opening exercises consisted of Scripture readings and hymns selected with reference to the occasion. A very impressive prayer was offered by the venerable Dr. Lynch. Dr. Gilbert's sermon was from the text, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord." In the course of the sermon be said: "During this pastorate seventeen members of the church have been removed by death. It seems eminently proper for us to devote one service exclusively to their memory. The relation subsisting between the followers of Christ, next to the domestic relation, is the most intimate and sacred of time. The hearts of true believers are bound together by cords that reach out beyond the grave.

"One family we dwell in Him, One church above, beneath,
Though now divided by the stream—
The narrow stream of death."

He then read the record of deaths, as follows: Dec. 19, 1885-Mrs. Julia Allison, an aged wid-ow, mother of Mrs. Dr. Minick. Dec. 28, 1885-Mrs. Elizabeth Emley, aged sixty-two, wife of S. C. Emley, who still worships and

Dr. Gilbert then spent a great portion of the remainder of his address in speaking of the life and character of Mr. Yohn. Regarding the association of Mr. Yohn with the church Dr. Gilbert said: "Whatever else he was, he was a Christian, a Methodist. As such he will be remembered by all who knew him. Around this fact, as central, must be built his home, his bus-iness, his citizenship, his philanthropy, and whatever entered into the aggregate of his work and influence for half a century. Brother Yohn was a child of Methodist parents whose early home was near the spot where American Method ism achieved its first great victories. They must have known, and the subject of this sketch must have known, those godly men of the beoric age, whose names are as household words, whose deeds are a rich legacy for all the coming generations. Brother Yohn was also blessed with a pious sister, several years his senior, who was converted in their Maryland home, whose experience was of that decided character common to those times. In her diary, which has been shown to me, are the records of her joy and sorrow, of her temptations and triumphs. And on the same pages, that evidently were then bedewed with a sister's tears, are expressed the intense desires of her heart for the salvation of her brother John. Can any one wonder that with such antecedents and surroundings our de-parted friend should have become a Christian!" For several weeks an increase of religious life has been manifested at this church, especially in the prayer-meetings. Yesterday was a good day all through with the congregation. At the morning service one united with the church on probation, in the evening two arose from prayers, and at an after-meeting five were converted.

Central Baptist Association. The Central Baptist Association will begin its first semi-annual meeting at the North Baptist Church,on Broadway, to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock, and will continue its sessions until Wednesday night or Thursday morning. Rev. Dr. Ogle, of Franklin, will deliver the regular address before the association, and the remainder of the time will be devoted to routine business connected with permanent organization, as the association is as yet in its infancy. It is an outgrowth of the old association, the trouble having arisen some months ago over the toleration, on the part of a church at Acton, of a divorce on other than legal grounds, but claimed to be legitimate by the pastor.

Numerous attempts were made at the time to rectify the matter, but they all failed, and since it was not deemed advisable to expel the offending church, it was decided in a private conferwould be brought about by the formation of a new association. Accordingly all the churches identified with the old organization withdrew with the exception of the one at Actor and one or two others that upheld its action, and the Central Association was temporarily formed. The meeting that is to begin to-morrow is for the purpose of drawing up a permanent constitution and attending to other details of organi-

Dr. Gilbert Resigned. Last winter the Rev. Dr. Gilbert, pastor of Meridian-street M. E. Church, was elected superintendent of the department of instruction of the International Sunday-school Association. The design of his election was to institute some new measures for the more thorough preparation of Sunday-school teachers. The purpose was to organize a movement that should reach all the States and Territories of the United States and the provinces of Canada, and eventually the Protestant nations of Europe. It was, moreover, to be a general work, enlisting all denominations. It now appears that what some feared at the outset has actually transpired. In laying plans for so great an enterprise it was found difficult to adapt it to the views of the many parties con-cerned. Months have elapsed in an earnest ef-fort to remove these difficulties, and the time for beginning the work has been postponed again and again in hope of an harmonious ad-justment. The last date fixed was Oct. 1, but at a recent meeting the committee, not haviug overcome all obstacles, found further delay necessary. Accordingly, Dr. Gilbert has de-clined the office, and will continue his labors in the pastorate.

In Consequence of an Old Feud.

Residents on Madison avenue, in the vicinity of Lisber's brewery, were thrown into considerable excitement yesterday by a fight in which several of the parties were interested. George Ballard, twenty-two years old, has had a long standing feud, it seems, with another young man of the vicinity, and meeting him yesterday on the street in company with two other young men and a lady friend, took occasion for a little reverce by knocking him down. Before the compliment could be returned, Ballard fled and took refuge in his boarding-house near by. Patrolman Corrigan was summoned, and after considerable struggling, in which the young fellow was dealt several blows at the hands of be efficer, he was taken to the station-house

Escaped from the Orphan Asylum. Five boys, Norwood Davis, George Holmes, Griffith Ogden, Merrit Cates and Walter Brown, escaped from the Orphans' Home, on College avesue, Saturday afternoon, and have not been heard of since. They were on the play-ground at the time, and at an opportune moment slipped out on the streets. They are supposed to be in hiding somewhere in the neighborhood, as the janitor of the building claims he saw them yesterday, but could not capture them, as they were so far in advance of him. The case was last night put in the hands of the police, and it is believed that if not discovered they will voluntarily return in a few days, as they are too young to make a way for themselves.

AN OUTRAGE ON WORKINGMEN.

Democrats Pack the Typographical Union and Resort to Illegal Measures. The alleged labor representatives who hired themselves out to the Democratic State central committee to turn the labor organizations of Indianapolis into Democratic political machines are still attempting to carry out their contract. and in their efforts are resorting to all sorts of debasing schemes, no matter what the cost to organized labor may be. The last example of their perfidy occurred at yesterday's meeting of Indianapolis Typographical Union, No. 1. In accordance with the views of the highest officers of the International Union, the local unions were to be kept free from political influences. the belief existing that only by such a course sould the highest aims of the organization be attained. Several weeks ago the scheming Democratic politicians attempted to use the union as a political machine, and without authority of the union began to publish the Appeal as a Democratic sheet. A month ago the union met, and by a very decisive majority decided that the paper should not be political in its character. The action was a very great disappointment to the Democratic hirelings of the State committee, and they immediately began scheming to have it revoked, and the Appeal again made a Democratic sheet. During the last two weeks there have been frequent secret conferences in the court-house between the schemers, and a plan of action was agreed upon. The meeting of the union yesterday was packed with Democrats, while Republican members were left in ingurance of the proposed scheme in order that the work might be carried out. A large number of Republican members were approached and plainly told that they had better remain away from the meeting, with the threat that if they did not do so they would be called from their positions. The threat was sufficient to keep nearly all of those Republican members away, hoped and schemed for.

In accordance with the arrangement a resolution was introduced instructing the committee baving charge of the publication of the Appeal to make it an out-and-out Democratic paper, and to fight General Harrison viciously. The Republican minority present made a vigorous ight against any such prostitution of the union, but their protestations counted for naught. President Plank, of the International Typographical Union, by courtesy occupied the chair when the resolution was offered, and strenuously opposed any such action as it contemplated. He urged the union not to take any step of the kind. stating that it was not in harmony with the International Union, and would be suicidal. In his position as the supreme officer in the Inter-national Union, and as temporary presiding offi-cer of the local union, he ruled the resolution out of order, but the Democratic hirelings, not to be thwarted in their scheme, disregarded his ruling, and passed the resolution.

The action of the Democrats in so prostituting the union was very bitterly condemned by the Republicans present, and more so by the large number who were intimidated from attending by the threat that they would be called from the cases they held if they attended. The Democrats know the action will probably be set aside at the next meeting of the union, as the Republicans have a majority, but as the union meets only once a month, they thought they could get the benefit of having the organ of the union a Democratic sheet for that length of time. The Republican members, who feel that they have been outraged, threaten to start a paper of their own, as an offset to the Appeal, if the Democratic hirelings persist in what they propose to do.

More Dirty Work. By the aid of the few self-constituted labor representatives of Indianapolis who are in the employ of the Democratic State central committee, the Democratic leaders are still attempting to influence votes by circulating resolutions passed by one or two labor organizations herewhich had been packed with Democrats for that purpose. As a part of the plan entered into by Gruelle and others with the State central committee, to call a special session of the Federation of Trades, exclude Republicans, and have it denounce General Harrison, the printed proceedings of the infamous meeting are now to be circulated as a campaign document. While they have ostensibly been compiled by John P. Hannegan, secretary and treasurer of the Federation, the Democratic State central committee has had the work done, and now, under the sanction of the officers of the meeting, are to circulate the proceedings. Hannegan, at the request of the committee, has published a card in the Labor Signal, in which he says the printed proceedings will be ready in about three weeks. He says be desires to place a number of copies in the possession of every labor assem-bly in the State, and with that end in view asks the address of some officers in each assembly. That, of course, means he desires the address of some Democrat who can be trusted to circulate the resolutions adopted at a meeting from which nearly one hundred of the most prominent la-boring men in the State were excluded, simply because they were Republicans.

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

Resources and Work of the German Orphans' Home-The Coming Anniversary.

The annual meeting of the German Orphan Asylum Association was held yesterday afternoon, and the reports of all the officers which were submitted show that the association is in a very flourishing condition. There are 351 members of the association, against 333 at the close of last official year. At the close of 1887 there were fifty-nine children in the home. During the past twelve months fifteen were taken in, twelve released and seven bound out, leaving fifty-five in the home at present. The report of the secretary and treasurer shows that at the close of last year there was $790.38 in the treasury. The receipts of the year were $7.561.13, of which $4.536.75 was county money. The expenses were $6,118.49, leaving a balance of $1,442.64. The trustees' report fixes the valuation of the home at $56,648.90. The meeting completed the arrangements for the anniversary celebration next Sunday. In the forenoon all the German churches will unite in religious services on the ground. At noon the ladies of the home will serve dinner, and in the afternoon there will be addresses by Mayor Denny and Prof. Emmerich. There will be an excursion from Cincinnati, and several hundred of the friends of the institution in that city are expected to come over. A committee was appointed to receive them and give them proper attention. Charles Mair, who has given such excellent satisfaction as teacher and warden of the home, will continue in the po-

Condition of the Crops.

The report of the Indiana weather service for the week ending Sept. 1 states that the conditions of the weather in the central portion of the State have been quite favorable for the maturing of the crops. In the northern portion the continued drought has caused a premature maturing of the corn, potatoes and the like, which will shorten the yield fully 20 per cent. The successive heavy rains in the southern portion have damaged the wheat and straw in stack, and retarded the ripening of corn and potatoes. The tobacco is also suffering from too much moisture. The temperature has been below the

They begin - the Ember days-September, November, December. We have goods that go with them appropriately. Our fall and winter selections are coming in fast and felicitously. The felicitous part is that they are going out again fast. It shows that we make the right choice. It testifies that our friends are pleased, and like the wise people that they are, they stand not upon the order of their buying but buy at once. It is a good example to follow.
